MIKA CUT

STEP 1. Separate hair into 3 sections. A top section along the parietal ridge, a middle section that includes the sides and back above the occipital, and a lower section that is below the occipital bone.

STEP 2. Starting in the lower section, begin by cutting a perimeter line at zero-degree elevation. Make sure to isolate a 1/4" diagonal section on the right side, if an accent piece is desired. Next, take vertical subsections, pulled at 45 degrees and cut following the round of the head. Complete lower section using a traveling guide.

STEP 3. Release the middle section, and take vertical subsections elevating at 90 degrees from the head. Using the guide from the lower section, cut a 45-degree line. Using a traveling guide, work your way to the front hairline on either side.

STEP 4. Release the top section and blow-dry the entire head with a cushion brush. Isolate a triangle-shaped fringe section at the front. Then, take pie-shaped sections pivoting from the crown, and point-cut, following the 45-degree line created in the middle section. Work the entire top section in this manner, until you reach the triangle section.

STEP 5. Cut a heavy fringe using comb control and blunt cutting. Length of fringe should be at the eye lashes and softly round into shape at the cheekbone. Point-cut to create a clean, shaped perimeter all the way around the head. (Accent piece and length is your choice.)

STEP 6. Soften and personalize using texturizing scissors in an arc cutting pattern.

SHAYLA CUT

STEP 1. Create a parting from ear-to-ear, and comb hair to natural fall. Cut a face frame going short-to-long (The short side is the hair that falls from each side of the part, at the front of the head.) This will create a triangle when both sides are combed forward.

STEP 2. Take a 1" parting from the high point to the bottom hair line, and comb everything forward. Using your face frame as your guide, remove with point-cut.

STEP 3. Repeat on the other side. This will make the layer gradually get longer toward the back.

TIP: The more you elevate the section, the softer the layer becomes.

STEP 4. Next, create a parietal parting and comb the hair straight up, and over-direct to the high point of the crown. You will see a point. Remove the point with a point-cut.

STEP 5. Comb all hair down to natural fall, and remove perimeter to desired length.

TIP: If you elevate the section, the perimeter will be softer.

SHAYLA STYLE 1

STEP 1. On wet hair, apply a golf-ball size of Design Foam all over, adding a few pumps of Spray Gel. Blow-dry using a large round brush.

STEP 2. Once hair is 100% dry, back-comb the entire head, except $\frac{3}{4}$ " inch at the hair line.

STEP 3. After back-combing, you will begin to brush the hair at the nape to one side of the head.

STEP 4. Once you have worked your way to the crown, brushing the hair over, you begin to lay your bobby pins up the head.

TIP: As you work your way up the head, make sure every pin crosses the one before it. Long pins work best with this design.

STEP 5. Once you have a row of pins going up the back, begin to brush the hair in the opposite direction, rolling, and creating a twist. Start at the nape and work your way up to the sides.

STEP 6. The top of the head may be styled in a range of ways. For a modern look, it can be combed back tightly. Or for a more classic flavor, the top can be incorporated directly into the twist.

STEP 7. Set your finished look with Keratin Healing Oil Lustrous Finishing Spray.

SHAYLA STYLE 2

STEP 1. On damp hair apply a golf-ball size portion of Foundation Mousse with a pump of Keratin Healing Oil Hair Treatment.

STEP 2. Blow-dry the hair with a paddle brush in a more directional way. Backward forward side to side until 100% dry.

TIP: If there is a strong cowlick, start there to control the hair's direction when it lays dry.

STEP 3. Once hair is dry take 1 ½" sections loosely square in shape (doesn't need to be perfect!). Wrap hair around your 1 ½" Marcel iron. All sections around the face should be wrapped away from the face.

STEP 4. After your curls are done, blast dry the hair with your blow-dryer. Lightly mist the hair with Beach Spray, and blast dry again, using cold air.

STEP 5. Repeat the curl process again.

TIP: The more times you do this the more bed heady the look becomes.

STEP 6. Finish with Dry Shampoo for that pillow-talk texture.

STEP 7. Set your finished look with Keratin Healing Oil Lustrous Finishing Spray.

SHAYLA STYLE 3

STEP 1. Apply Foundation Mousse all over damp hair, and blow-dry using and a large round brush.

STEP 2. Set the hair using a vertical Marcel technique to give loose, full waves. Spray with Dry Texture Spray as you work.

STEP 3. Isolate a triangle section along the side of the head that begins at the front part line, and extends to just behind the ear in the back. Using a generous amount Sculpting Paste, create a diagonal grid using small elastic bands. Work one row from front to back, one at a time. Continue with the row next to it, keeping work orderly.

TIP: Elastics should sit at the back of each small square section, and should incorporate the ponytail from the previous square section

STEP 4. Once elastics have been set, use your fingers or a wide-toothed comb to open up the waves and apply Dry Texture Spray to create sexy tousled texture.
